Grade 3- English - Study Materials

2. Reading Comprehension -

The didgeridoo is a traditional wind instrument from Australia. The clarinet is a woodwind instrument from the orchestra.

Both instruments look like a long tube. But the clarinet is different from the didgeridoo because it has a lot of holes. The didgeridoo is straight, but the clarinet has a curved bell shape at the end. The clarinet is also not as colorful as the didgeridoo. The didgeridoo is often painted with pictures of animals or bright patterns.

The didgeridoo is as long as the clarinet, but the didgeridoo can also be longer or shorter. Like the didgeridoo, the clarinet is made out of the same material - wood. However, the clarinet can have other materials like plastic and metal.

One thing is the same for both instruments. You blow air into them to make music. The air vibrates inside the tube and makes a sound. The pitch, or sound, of the clarinet is not as low as the sound of the didgeridoo. But both instruments make a sound that is beautiful.
